Self-Advocate Trainers For People Planning Together

A comprehensive training and mentoring course that helps people with disabilities (and their support assistants) become credentialed trainers to conduct the People Planning Together course – a training to help people in services have more control over their lives. The specific audience targeted is people who have been through the People Planning Together course as a participant and are able to teach others and help them learn.

Purpose: to provide Self-Advocates the skills and knowledge to be credentialed trainers of the People Planning Together course

The Training is a series of days that include:

- ✓ A two day session to review the People Planning Together curriculum and develop training teams
- ✓ First demonstration of the Trainer Candidates conducting the two day PPT Training with observation by a Mentor Trainer who will provide feedback
- ✓ Second demonstration of the Trainer Candidates conducting the two day PPT Training with observation by a Mentor Trainer who will provide feedback
- ✓ Becoming certified as a PPT Trainer upon completion of meeting requirements

Upon becoming a credentialed PPT Trainer, people must conduct at least two People Planning Together sessions per year in order to maintain Trainer status.
