Using Person Centered Practices to Develop the ISP Train the Trainer

A comprehensive training and mentoring course which helps PCT Trainers further their skills and knowledge of plan facilitation to become credentialed in conducting the Using Person Centered Practices To Develop The ISP curriculum. The specific audience targeted is current credentialed PCT Trainers who have attended the Using Person Centered Practices To Develop The ISP course as a class participant within the past year. Additionally, they must demonstrate the ability to coach others to use the tools/skills and to write good plans that are used.

Purpose: to provide PCT Trainers the skills and knowledge to be credentialed trainers of the Using Person Centered Practices to Develop the ISP course

The Training is a series of days that include:

- ✓ A one day session to review the Using Person Centered Practices To Develop The ISP curriculum and develop training teams
- ✓ First demonstration of the Trainer Candidates conducting the Using Person Centered Practices To Develop The ISP training with observation by a Mentor Trainer who will provide feedback
- ✓ Second demonstration of the Trainer Candidates conducting the Using Person Centered Practices To Develop The ISP training with observation by a Mentor Trainer who will provide feedback
- ✓ Becoming certified as a Using Person Centered Practices To Develop The ISP Trainer upon completion of meeting requirements

Upon becoming a credentialed PPT Trainer, people must conduct at least three trainings per year, remain current with materials and learning of TLCPCP, either attend a Gathering or obtain materials annually that are reviewed with a Mentor Trainer, demonstrate the capacity to personalize the materials through use of their own experiences and stories, provide on-going coaching of others in the use of the skills/tools
